The Universal Church in 2025

Year after year, the Universal Church continues to intensify the spread of the Word of God, fulfilling the command given by the Lord Jesus to His disciples: “Go into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature” (Mark 16:15).

In addition to the daily services held in all its churches with the purpose of bringing the Word of God to everyone, the Universal Church also promotes regular events and social outreach initiatives in hospitals, prisons, nursing homes, orphanages, communities, schools, and other socially relevant spaces. Through these actions, people of all ages and backgrounds are reached in the nearly 150 countries where the Church is present.

With the same purpose of offering greater comfort and expanding opportunities for more people to hear the message of salvation through Jesus, new churches were inaugurated, and others were relocated to more suitable facilities.

Throughout the year, the Universal Church carried out various events that helped thousands of people in the United States and around the world draw closer to God and strengthen their faith. In this edition, you will find more details about this work that continues to grow and shows no signs of stopping.

| Beating Depression |

Sometimes life’s struggles can be so intense that it feels like the world has turned gray. All joy, anticipation and excitement fade, giving way to a profound sense of weariness. This is what depression does. It weighs down the soul with sorrow. It brings hopelessness, drains motivation, and makes even the simplest tasks feel impossible. And unfortunately, in the most severe of cases, it can even take away a person’s desire to live.

Depression is more than just feeling sad or a state of mind, it is a sickness of the soul. Yet, hope is not lost. With faith, it’s possible to restore what has been lost and recover the joy, strength, and purpose that was stolen. The Lord Jesus, has the power to heal the soul and restore color into your life.

Every Sunday, The Universal Church opens its doors to those who are battling depression. If you need support, we invite you to visit a branch near you. Join a Chain of Prayer, a seven-week commitment where you receive spiritual strength through powerful prayers, practical guidance, and one on one counseling.

You are not alone in this fight. Thousands around the world have found hope and transformation through faith, proving that the Chain of Prayer can truly make a difference. You can be the next success story. You can beat depression.

Will this year be the same?

Everyone wants their lives and families to be transformed from water into wine, but how does this happen? Let us take a look at the first miracle performed by the Lord Jesus.

“On the third day there was a wedding in Cana of Galilee, and the mother of Jesus was there. Now both Jesus and His disciples were invited to the wedding. And when they ran out of wine, the mother of Jesus said to Him, ‘They have no wine.’ Jesus said to her, ‘Woman, what does your concern have to do with Me? My hour has not yet come.’ His mother said to the servants, ‘Whatever He says to you, do it.’”
John 2:1–5

Through this passage, we see that the Lord Jesus was only able to transform the water into wine because He was invited to the wedding. As long as you do not invite Him into your life, leaving behind your own ideas, opinions, and religiosity, and making yourself empty before Him, He cannot perform this glorious work.

Secondly, Mary left a valuable lesson for us. We must obey the teachings of the Lord Jesus. Her attitude in instructing the servants to obey Him shows that the Lord Jesus was above her. We should always give all honor, obedience, and glory to the Lord Jesus, and to no one else.

“Now there were set there six waterpots of stone, according to the manner of purification of the Jews, containing twenty or thirty gallons each. Jesus said to them, ‘Fill the waterpots with water.’ And they filled them up to the brim.”
John 2:6–7

We are like these waterpots of stone. When we come into the presence of God, we are often full of our own wills, religiosity, opinions, and sins, yet our lives are truly empty. The water placed inside the waterpots represents the Word of God, which must fill us completely so that we can rebuke doubts and evil thoughts as they arise.

“And He said to them, ‘Draw some out now, and take it to the master of the feast.’ And they took it. When the master of the feast had tasted the water that was made wine, the master of the feast called the bridegroom. And he said to him, ‘Every man at the beginning sets out the good wine, and when the guests have well drunk, then the inferior. You have kept the good wine until now.’”
John 2:8–10

What is interesting is that the transformation from water into wine happened along the path between the servants and the master of the feast. This shows us that we must remain on the path of obedience throughout our lives, because as long as we walk in obedience, the transforming work of the Holy Spirit takes place.

The wine represents the Holy Spirit, who gives us life and purpose. First, He manifests Himself within those who were once waterpots of stone, so that others can taste and see the transformation that has taken place within us.

Without a doubt, this year can be filled with the manifestation of God’s glory in your life, regardless of whether anyone wishes you a happy new year or not. You already have the new wine prepared and waiting to strengthen you day after day.

When everything collapsed, God rebuilt so intense that I always refused.

Even while I was far from God, my financial life was going well as an adult, and this made me believe I was in control. Then, suddenly, everything fell apart. I was fired from my job, and debts quickly began to pile up. As if that were not enough, in 2012 I faced another deep loss: the death of my grandmother, who had been one of my greatest pillars.

All of this deeply affected me. I remembered God with affection, recalling that even during my troubled childhood, I had peace when I was close to Him. Still, I convinced myself that the pain I felt was normal, that everyone goes through difficult phases, and that everything would eventually resolve itself. But it never did.

On New Year’s Eve in 2013, I nearly lost my life in a car accident after leaving a club with friends. It was a true wake up call. In that moment, I faced the real possibility of death and realized that I could not continue living the way I was. I remembered my aunt’s persistent invitations and felt that it was time to give God a chance. I decided to attend a Wednesday service. It was a simple step, but it completely changed the course of my life.

From that day on, I began to truly seek God. I became a faithful tither and started to establish myself spiritually. God restored me, both financially and spiritually. As an orphan, I had carried a deep emptiness for years. Loneliness had followed me since childhood. But today, through the Holy Spirit, I feel complete. The Holy Spirit transformed me from within, healed old wounds, and lifted the weight I had carried for so many years.

Today, I can say with complete certainty: I am whole. I finally found what I had been searching for my entire life. God gave me a new chance and showed me that I was never alone. He was always guarding me, patiently waiting for my return.

Illness awakened her to intelligent faith

Faced with a serious diagnosis and a treatment that was financially inaccessible, Patricia found a new direction for her life through faith. Read her story below. After lesions appeared and spread across her body, accompanied by intense itching and emotional distress, Patricia was diagnosed with guttate psoriasis, a chronic autoimmune disease. The high cost of the recommended treatment increased her concern even more.

Guided by her sisters who attend the Universal Church, she decided to turn to faith. She began attending services and, without accepting the diagnosis as final, sought a more affordable medical alternative, combining treatment with the practice of faith.

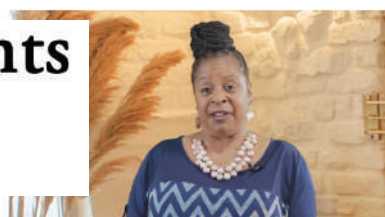

With perseverance, she started using consecrated water in prayer and soon noticed significant improvement in her symptoms and in the quality of her sleep. Her recovery was rapid and surprising, to the point that doctors themselves acknowledged the unusual progress.

Patricia affirms that the healing came through her faith in Jesus Christ. Today, she celebrates the restoration of her health and emphasizes that, beyond physical healing, she learned to depend more on God, strengthening her spiritual life.

The Universal Church teaches that intelligent faith walks alongside appropriate medical treatment, strengthening the human being in every area of life.

“I had three stents placed in my heart”

The doctors placed three stents in my heart. The first time, I was standing by the microwave when I suddenly felt a shock go through my heart. I went to the hospital, and the doctor told me I had to stay because they needed to place a stent. They explained that my arteries were blocked and that the blood was not flowing properly to the main artery of my heart. After some time, my heart began to feel unwell again. When I returned to the hospital, they had to place a second stent because the blood was still not flowing as it should. In 2024, a third stent was placed in my heart. At that point, I could not even walk one block. If I walked up the ramp to my house, I had to stop and catch my breath. I was panicking often, and my heart simply was not functioning well.

That was when I said to myself, “I am going to put my trust and my faith in God.” When I received the blessed water at the church, I drank it faithfully. I continued trusting God and seeking Him. Then, in 2025, I went back to the doctor, and he told me that everything was fine. I no longer needed aspirin or any other medication. My heart was good.

“The results showed that there was no cancer”

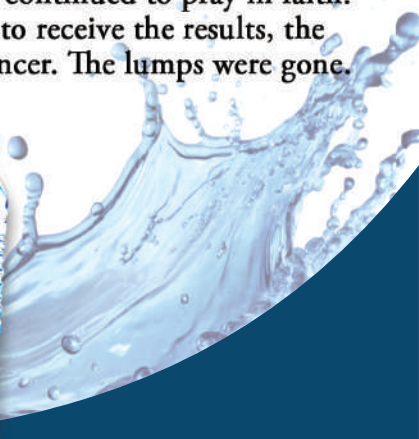

One day, while I was taking a shower, I felt a strong pain in my left breast. Because of that, I went to the doctor, and they sent me to have a mammogram. I was also told to return one week later to have a biopsy.

The doctor explained that they had found two lumps in my breast. They said to me, “Ms. Campbell, it appears that you have cancer.” At first, I accepted the news, but afterward, I became revolted and refused to accept that diagnosis.

I began to use the blessed water on my breast and prayed, telling God that my sister and my grandmother had died from cancer and that I would not be the next. I washed my breast with the blessed water and continued to pray in faith.

When I returned to the doctor to receive the results, the tests showed that there was no cancer. The lumps were gone.

Bishop Joshua

God is with you every day of the year

Now that the fireworks have faded and the reality of a new year has set in, one thing is clear. It is a new year. With it come new challenges and perhaps unresolved matters carried over from the past one. As the year begins, it is natural to look ahead and wonder what obstacles may arise. Yet one thing remains unchanged. The Word of God.

In Joshua chapter 1 verse 5, God assures Joshua that no one would be able to stand against him, not because of Joshua's strength, but because of God's presence:

"No man shall be able to stand before you all the days of your life. As I was with Moses, so I will be with you. I will not leave you nor forsake you."

That same truth holds for those who walk with God today. Whatever challenges may come, whether uncertainty, fear, new responsibilities, or old battles, none of them has the final word. When God goes with you, you are never alone, and no barrier is greater than His presence. This does not mean the journey will always be easy, but it does mean you will overcome.

So step into this year with confidence, not because everything is under your control, but because everything is under God's control. With Him beside you, nothing can truly stand in your way.

Let this year be marked by faith. With God with you, no obstacle is final, no setback is permanent, and no enemy can ultimately prevail. He is with you every step of the way.

May the God of the Bible bless you.

"They said I wouldn't make it through that day."

Defying all medical expectations and through the unshakable faith of his parents, Victor had his movements fully restored.

Health professionals often emphasize that maintaining a healthy body involves good habits such as balanced nutrition and regular physical activity. Even so, unexpected situations can arise.

This was the case of Victor Paulo Junior, 35, who recalls, "One day, I got home from Jiu jitsu training feeling very tired. I went to rest, but when I woke up, the discomfort had not gone away. I fainted, and a family member found me lying on the floor after two hours unconscious." At the hospital, Victor was diagnosed with a stroke.

In critical condition, Victor had to be intubated and transferred to the Intensive Care Unit. He was unaware of what was happening around him, but his parents, Monica dos Santos and Victor Paulo, a Bishop of the Universal Church, began a relentless fight for his recovery. The Bishop remembers what the doctor told him. "She showed me the brain MRI and said that the cells responsible for movement were dead. According to her, the condition was irreversible."

According to Monica, the doctors offered no hope. "They told us Victor would remain bedridden, that he would not walk, the altar and placed my faith there, along with the life of my family. When I arrived at the hospital, we received the news that Victor had come out of the coma," Monica recalls.

Despite the good news, Victor had still not regained his movements. "At that moment, I understood that I was on the right path, but I believed that God's miracle is complete and that the altar does not owe us anything," his mother says. Day after day, she spoke to her son, encouraging him to move his fingers, his hand, and each part of his body. "I recorded that moment because I knew it would serve as a testimony of God's power," she adds.

From coma to new life

After twenty-seven days in the hospital, Victor was discharged and continued medical care at home. Defying all medical expectations, his movements gradually returned. He progressed from using a wheelchair to a walker, then crutches, until he was able to walk independently. Later, the doctor told him he could return to work, study, and drive.

More than physical healing, this entire process brought Victor closer to God and led him to seek a deeper relationship with Him. Monica concludes by emphasizing the role of faith throughout the journey. "What we went through would lead any father or mother to despair. That did not happen to us because the Holy Spirit was with us every moment."

If you or someone in your family is facing a health challenge, know that you do not have to fight alone. The Universal Church holds a meeting dedicated to teaching how to face these situations and seek healing through faith. Take part in the Chain of Prayer every Tuesday at a Universal Church near you.

would not speak, and would not be able to eat normally. That was very hard for me, because I took care of Victor and changed his diapers when he was a child, and I would have to go through all of that again with him as an adult."

One of the memories Victor keeps from that period is how he was described by the medical team. "When the specialist came into the room, she introduced me to the residents as the quadriplegic fighter or the young quadriplegic man. They even said there was no hope for me and that I would not make it through that day. But even without being able to move, I spoke to my soul and said, 'I will live one more day.'"

Even without knowing whether Victor could fully understand what was happening, the Bishop asked him, "Do you accept Jesus as your Lord and Savior?" Victor responded by blinking, and a tear ran down his face. "At that moment, I thought, 'I won this soul for Jesus,'" the Bishop recalls.

This delicate moment shook the entire family, but choosing to place faith

One setback after the other

I was a young woman filled with insecurities. There was a deep emptiness and overwhelming sadness inside me. From an early age, my health was very fragile, and because of that, I could not find happiness in anything. Days and seasons came and went, but my life remained stuck in the same routine, monotonous and without meaning.

I suffered greatly from epileptic seizures. I felt like someone who had no control over her own body. Those moments were frightening, painful, and often lonely. The constant fear and uncertainty made me question my own worth. With everything I was facing, I became withdrawn and deeply depressed. I also began to see spirits and even speak to them. I was miserable and saw no reason to continue living.

Believing that marriage would bring happiness and stability, I married at a very young age. However, the problems continued, and another painful struggle emerged. I could not have children. Doctors diagnosed me as sterile, and that news crushed me completely. It felt like yet another door had been permanently closed in my life.

When I was invited to attend a meeting at the Universal Church, I felt that I had nothing left to lose. With no expectations and carrying a broken heart, I decided to accept the invitation. It was there, at the altar, that I discovered Someone who could truly transform my life, God Himself.

I began attending the meetings every Wednesday, Friday, and Sunday, committing myself to a chain of prayer. With each service, God worked deeply within me. Little by little, He brought healing, peace, and hope to places that had once been filled only with pain, fear, and despair.

The heavy burden I carried for so many years, He removed. In its place, He gave me a light burden, filled with love, purpose, and direction. I surrendered my life completely to God and received the greatest treasure of all, the Holy Spirit. True joy entered my life and has remained with me to this day, guiding every decision and every step I take.

Today, I live a completely different reality. I have a happy and stable marriage and have been with my husband for more than 30 years. He is a true gift from God. I am also the mother of two children who grew to become men of God, fulfilling a dream that once seemed impossible. I no longer suffer from epilepsy. I was healed.

I am happy, fulfilled, and complete. I live with a smile that comes from within, because true joy lives inside me. Every day is a gift, every moment is precious, and my life has become a living testimony of the transforming power of God.

Boiling from within

The lack of affection in childhood can have devastating effects on a person's life, effects that, unfortunately, are often only recognized when it feels too late.

Flavia grew up without a father.

"I never had, nor did I ever know what it was like to have a father present," she says. Raised solely by her mother, the absence of her father and the lack of affection deeply impacted her emotional development. "Pain, hurt, resentment, everything kept building up inside me."

The quickest path to inner healing would have been forgiveness, but Flavia did not understand that at the time. She felt incapable of forgiving her father and, without realizing it, chose a much harder path.

An endless cycle

Frustration, emotional dependence on the approval of others, and relationships that never worked out became part of her daily reality. Seeking a way out of this cycle, she turned to psychological help but still felt trapped.

"I became a sad person, with a deep inner emptiness. I was very anxious and easily irritated. I always felt the need to defend myself and stay in control during conversations. I could not manage my emotions and had no self-esteem at all." Although she was already in a relationship with the man who is now her husband, she felt unhappy and did not view the relationship as healthy at that time.

A friend's secret

In search of relief, Flavia began seeking help from spiritualists and fortune tellers, hoping for protection against evil and envy, but nothing changed. It was during this period that she noticed something different about a friend who carried peace within herself.

"I wanted to know the God my friend had," Flavia explains. She accepted her friend's invitation to attend church. "After the very first meeting, I was able to sleep through the night. I had not experienced that kind of peace in a very long time." By obeying and putting the Word of God into practice, Flavia began a true process of liberation and inner transformation. When she finally forgave her father, she received what she desired most, the Holy Spirit.

"I felt an overwhelming joy and a deep inner peace," she says. "Today, I have a balanced and blessed marriage, a husband who listens to me, and peace in our home."

Today, Flavia owns her own business and lives a fulfilled and stable life. Above all, she is grateful to the Lord Jesus for the transformation that took place within her.

YPG Recap 2025

As we look back at 2025, our hearts are filled with gratitude for everything God accomplished through the YPG. Throughout the year, we witnessed powerful transformation as many young people grew in faith, chose to be baptized, and decided to walk a better path for their lives. God moved in a special way, guiding hearts toward purpose, renewal, and lasting change that will continue far beyond this year.

My name is Quanteria Cody. I am 18 years old, and before the YPG, I struggled with depression, suicide attempts, and a broken relationship with my mother. Through The Universal Church and the YPG, I found acceptance, healing, and my true identity in God. Today, my life is transformed. I have peace, restored relationships, hope for my future, and I am happier than I have ever been.

One of the defining moments of the year was the BFA event in New York, where youths boldly decided to serve God with their lives. That moment reflected what 2025 was all about: surrender, growth, and a generation rising with faith, conviction, and hope. Looking back, we see a year marked by transformed lives and a future filled with promise.

RECAP

2025 was a year the world will never forget. From the very beginning, the headlines were heavy. Pain. Loss. Uncertainty. That is what much of the world saw throughout the year. But while the news focused on tragedy, God was still at work. And He was working through people of faith.

Through Unisocial, the Universal Church reached those in need. Food was shared, clothes were distributed, and dignity was restored. Through house visits, faith entered homes, bringing prayer, encouragement, and hope to those who needed it most.

In hospitals, the sick and their families received comfort and were reminded that even in pain, they were not alone. In nursing homes, the forgotten were remembered. Loneliness was replaced with love, and smiles returned.

And when the city lights went down, the Universal Church did not stop. Through Angels of the Night, volunteers went out during the darkest hours to reach the homeless where they were. Warm meals were served, kind words were spoken, and prayers were offered. Even in the night, love showed up.

Across the country, special works were launched. Places that may have started small but are already becoming future churches, planted to grow and serve.

And 2025 was not only a year of outreach. It was also a year of expansion. In Florida, the Universal Church took a historic step with the purchase of our cathedral, establishing a permanent place of faith, prayer, and salvation.

In Tacoma, Washington, doors were opened and lives were welcomed during the grand opening of a new church. In Iowa, the Universal Church opened its doors to serve the Micronesian community. In Missouri, another church was established, extending faith, culture, and belonging to even more families. And in Hilo, Hawaii, a new work began, reaching lives with faith, care, and a message of transformation.

Across the United States, back-to-school events supported families in need. School supplies were donated, backpacks were filled, and children were prepared, not only for school, but for a better future.

And last but not least, thousands of Bibles were placed inside prisons across the United States. The Word of God reached cells, hearts, and minds. Where there were bars, God opened doors.

2025 was a year of challenges, but it was also a year of purpose. While the world saw tragedy, God saw an opportunity to save, restore, and transform lives. This is what your seed made possible. This is what faith accomplished. And this is how the Universal Church continues to make a difference. This is what the Universal Church built in 2025. Because faith does not stand still. It moves forward.

HEALING OF THE SOUL IN Israel

from USA to Israel

An unforgettable pilgrimage that touched hearts and transformed spirits. This was more than a trip. It was a life changing experience. Among the highlighted places were the Jordan River, Mount Hermon, Qumran, the Sea of Galilee, Gethsemane, and Jesus' tomb.

Welcome to Israel

Pauls prison

Jordan River

Baptism

The first two days of this powerful journey began with a visit to Caesarea, where Paul's prison was visited. The Mount of Beatitudes was also part of the first day. As each verse was read, participants learned that the Beatitudes are commandments Jesus left to shape the character of every Christian. The second day was marked by baptism in the Jordan River, symbolizing a new beginning.

Sea of Galilee

Chorazin

Mount Hermon was a profound moment in the journey. Many were baptized with the Holy Spirit and experienced deep spiritual transformation.

The Sea of Galilee brought visible joy to everyone. Being in the same place where the disciples walked with the Lord Jesus filled hearts with gratitude and reverence.

Qumran

Moment of prayer

Gethsemane

Jesus tomb Holy Communion

The Qumran desert was another meaningful stop. It is one of the places where the Word of God began to be recorded. The Scriptures were hidden in caves, and although lives were sacrificed there, the Word of God was preserved.

The Garden of Gethsemane was a deeply significant moment. Participants learned why the Lord Jesus bled great drops of blood. There was a separation between Jesus the Son and God the Father. Just as human beings bleed when wounded, Jesus bled because of this separation. At Jesus' tomb, Holy Communion was held, giving everyone the opportunity to remember what our Lord Jesus did for us.

UBB RECAP 2025

Throughout 2025, UBB continued its mission of bringing hope, faith, and transformation to those behind bars through Bible distributions, discipleship, and outreach across multiple correctional facilities.

During the year, Bible distributions took place in several units, including Homestead Correctional, the Hughes Unit, Hobby Unit, Lane Murray Unit, and facilities in Alabama, where UBB first began its work in October 2024. In 2025, Alabama also celebrated one of UBB’s first graduations.

These are only a few of the many units reached throughout the year. Beyond distributing Bibles under the theme “Exchanging the Weapon,” UBB also held several open call services in 2025.

These services gave incarcerated men and women the opportunity to hear a powerful message of faith, hope, and salvation. As a result, many individuals chose to surrender their lives to the Lord Jesus Christ and were baptized in water, with baptisms taking place in multiple units, including the Hughes Unit. UBB understands that the mission to reach those behind bars is great, but it is firmly rooted in Scripture.

As Hebrews 13:3 reminds us: “Remember the prisoners as if chained with them, those who are mistreated, since you yourselves are in the body also.” UBB does not judge, we help.

Wherever UBB is present, there is hope. Not because we are special, but because anyone who is “Down with UBB” is ultimately standing with Christ. Our mission is to remind every incarcerated individual that Christ has not forgotten them and that they are not alone.

In 2025, UBB also conducted hygiene distributions in several male and female units, meeting practical needs alongside spiritual ones. Our desire is to do the will of our Father, and the countless life changing testimonies affirm that calling. Stories of renewed faith, restored family relationships, inner healing, and freedom from anger and trauma continue to pour in.

It brings UBB great joy to witness those once labeled the “black sheep” become the found sheep. Through UBB classes, many graduations were held this year for programs such as Overcoming Anger, Inner Healing, Shackles Off, IntelliMen, and more. Individuals once viewed as menaces to society are now walking boldly as children of God. Looking ahead, UBB’s goals for 2026 continue forward without pause.

Our mission is to reach more souls behind bars, build upon the work already started, and witness the transformation of even more lives. We are deeply grateful to God, as well as to the correctional units, wardens, staff, officers, and inmates who open their doors and hearts to UBB’s mission.

2025 was a powerful year. Here’s to an even greater 2026.

Micronesia 2025 Recap

2025 Recap: A year of faith, growth, and impact in the Micronesia Community

The year 2025 marked a powerful season of growth, unity, and transformation for the Micronesia Community through the work of the Universal Church across multiple states. From historic church openings to life changing outreach efforts, this year stood as a testimony of what God is doing among His people.

A historic grand opening in Iowa:

One of the most impactful moments of 2025 was the grand opening of the Universal Church in Iowa, which drew an extraordinary 212 people in attendance. This powerful gathering represented more than just the opening of a church. It was a clear sign of hunger for God and unity within the Micronesia Community.

The atmosphere was filled with faith, expectation, and joy as families came together to witness the beginning of a new chapter. The overwhelming turnout reflected God's hand moving strongly and set a solid foundation for what is to come.

Denver, Colorado: A new work is born

On February 2, 2025, the Universal Church in Denver officially opened its doors, marking the birth of a new work of faith in the heart of Colorado.

Located at 6738 East Colfax Avenue, one of the city's most diverse and historic streets, the church quickly became a beacon of hope for those seeking transformation, healing, and a new beginning through faith in the Lord Jesus Christ.

Since its opening, the Denver church has focused on building a strong spiritual foundation through daily services centered on deliverance, family restoration, healing, prosperity, the Holy Spirit, and salvation. People from all walks of life, including Micronesia, Hispanic, and other families, have come together to experience the presence of God. Many arrive burdened by life's struggles and leave renewed, strengthened by prayer and the Word of God.

Beyond church services, the pastoral team actively engages in community outreach, home visits, and evangelism throughout Denver. Though the work is still young, the vision is strong: to build a growing movement of faith that will impact the entire state of Colorado. The Universal Church in Denver is not just a building. It is a place of encounter where broken lives are restored and hope is reborn.

Missouri: Faith and miracles on the rise

The work in Missouri continued to grow steadily in 2025. Following the church's first service on March 25, 2024, a special Faith and Miracles event was held in St. Joseph, Missouri, at the Stoney Creek Hotel. Many attendees, especially from the Micronesia Community, traveled from different parts of the state to participate in this powerful gathering. Alongside these events, numerous home visits were made, offering prayers for those suffering from sickness, depression, addiction, and spiritual struggles. Families also received prayers for peace and restoration within their homes. On Sunday, July 6, another Faith and Miracles gathering was held at the same location, drawing over 100 people and filling the conference room to capacity. Many traveled hours to attend and receive the Healing Water. After prayers for healing and deliverance, several individuals testified about the miracles God had done in their lives. Since then, the Universal Church has continued holding Sunday services at 10:00 a.m., while actively seeking a permanent location to accommodate the growing congregation in Missouri.

Washington State: Faith in action through UniSocial

In Washington State, 2025 was marked by compassion in action through the UniSocial initiative. Volunteers came together to serve the houseless community, providing food to more than 60 people in need. Beyond meeting physical needs, volunteers offered prayers, counseling, and words of encouragement. This outreach reflected the heart of the Micronesia Community, demonstrating that faith is not only preached but lived through love, service, and care for those who are often forgotten. Looking ahead As 2025 comes to a close, the Micronesia Community celebrates a year filled with faith, expansion, and undeniable impact. From packed church openings to miracles, outreach, and restored lives, God moved powerfully across Iowa, Colorado, Missouri, and Washington.

The work continues with expectation, believing that what God began in 2025 will only grow stronger in the years ahead.

UNISOCIAL NEVER STOPS WORKING

2025 RECAP

Throughout 2025, Unisocial remained steadfast in its mission of service. Pastors, church workers, and volunteers worked tirelessly to reach communities from north to south, east to west across the United States. With dedication and compassion, countless lives were touched through acts of kindness, solidarity, and faith.

Through programs such as Angels of the Night, the Caleb Group visits to nursing homes, and Community Outreach, Unisocial was able to reach thousands of people. Each initiative carried a common purpose: to help those in need and to share the most important gift of all, the Word of God.

Unisocial continues to encourage everyone to join this mission and be part of this ongoing work. Together, it is possible to reach more people, strengthen communities, and make a lasting difference. Below are some highlights of what Unisocial accomplished throughout 2025.

Angels of the Night

Through the Angels of the Night group, which reaches out to underserved individuals during the evening hours, many people received hot meals, clothes, shoes, and spiritual support. These visits offered comfort, dignity, and hope to those facing difficult circumstances.

Caleb Group

Across various communities in the United States, Community Outreach initiatives provided food and clothing to families in need. Alongside this practical assistance, volunteers shared words of faith and encouragement, reminding everyone that they are seen, valued, and loved by God.

Community Outreach

Children were also greatly impacted during the large Back to School event, where school supplies were distributed to families in need. This initiative brought relief and encouragement to parents and gave children a confident start to the school year.

The gratitude expressed by those who received help was deeply moving. Their appreciation reflected the impact of every effort made with love and commitment.
